Dear Misty,

ANN ROBERTS
EDITOR
TERRY KAVANAGH
ASSISTANT EDITOR

I love to read MISTY comics because the stories are so true to life. Like "Ms Heaventeen is Ms Understood." The way Spike and Shirrelle felt is the same way friends feel in real life. I have one question about MISTY comics. I like the fashions you make with the dolls, it's just that some of the dolls are on comic pages. I'd cut them out of the book but I want to save the pages in the book.

Tina Easter, age 12

Dear Tina,

We try very hard to make sure there are no comic pages on the back of the paper doll pages, but sometimes we just can't work it out that way. We DO promise to try even harder in the future, so you can cut out the paper dolls without ruining the story!

I love MISTY! It's not like any other comic! I especially like how we (the readers) get the opportunity to send in our own fashion ideas. I wish MISTY could be extended so there could be more issues.

Your devoted reader,
Barbara Cottrell
Morrisville, PA

Thank you, Barbara, and thank you for your beautiful design, which we used in this issue!

I have a MILLIE THE MODEL comic book from when my mom was my age and I was very surprised when my grandmother discovered that Aunt Millie was Millie the Model.

Garrite Hammerbacker, Age 11
Baltimore, MD

Dear Misty,

How are you? I am eleven years old and I have a dog called Balif. He is ten months old. When I was smaller I used to make paper dolls and put real clothes on them. I go to Reeslyn school and I am in the fifth grade.

Love,
Isabelle Cox
Penfield

Dear Misty,

Could you keep your comics going, instead of limiting them to 6 issues? You probably have gobs of letters asking if you could, will and would keep MISTY comics going. All my friends agree with me. I am nine, my birthday is on Christmas eve. For four years I've collected comics. My sister has for seven years, my elder brother has for 15 years (he's 20) and my youngest brother for 3 1/2 years. We agreed it was a good comic, probably the best we've read.

Keep up the good work
Nataly Elizabeth Fletcher
Mass City, IL

I truly enjoyed the first issue of MISTY. I thought that Misty, Spike, Shirrelle, etc., had the certain something that young people of today look for in comics. I thought the ideas, clothing, and characters were very original.

Sandra-Lynn Shortall
St. John's, Nfld.

Hi!!!!

I wrote this letter to tell you how much I enjoy reading MISTY. I was never really interested in comic books but when my friend, Samantha Noriel, told me about it and I read it, it really interested me. Right now I have issues 1 and 2. Misty and her friends are just so much fun!! Are you still going to include Jane Rosen in other issues? How about Ricky Martin?

From your #1 fan of Misty comic books,
Robyn Engel
Spring Valley, NY

Dear Robyn,

Misty would be heartbroken if we didn't include Ricky Martin in each issue of her comic! I hope you enjoy the Ricky Martin paper dolls in this issue.

Dear Misty,

I would really love to be you. You are so pretty. I mean it. Tell your Aunt Millie I said Hi. And your father, too. I am really looking forward to your next issue.

Love,
Christi Weed
Mt. Airy, NC

I go to Jones Middle School. I am in the 6th grade. I really think what you're doing is neat.

Sincerely,
Dawn Muffins
Marion, IN

It's nice to see Marvel try something different from the usual super-hero genre such as MEET MISTY. I hope you can find time to do more work in the comic field after MISTY completes its run.

Enc Massey
Statesville, NC

Dear Misty,

Hi! I read your comic book. It's fantastic. I tried to draw some fashions for you and I did. I drew them for you because when I grow up I want to be a fashion designer.

Your fan,
Manivan Kimanivong
Winnipeg, Manitoba, CANADA

Dear Manivan,

For more future designers, actresses and models, read the next letters!

I am sending you part of my fashion book which I have drawn. These are favorites of people who I have asked to look at my book. I want to be a fashion designer when I grow up.

Carrie Humphries
Richmond, VA

Sorry there are only 6 books. My father sells comic books and stuff. The name of his store is Fantasy Zone. Pretty cool! By the way, in one of your books can you write about your aunt as a model? Because I want to be a model when I'm 13.

From one of your biggest fans,
Angela Learns
Parlin, NJ

Dear Misty,

I really like your comic book. You're really lucky you got the part in "As the Cookie Crumbles." I want to be an actress when I grow up. I like to sing, dance, and do gymnastics. Do not let Darlene bother you too much. She is just jealous of you.

Yours truly,
Sarah Rosen
New York, NY

And for a letter from a REAL model, read on:

Dear Misty,

Hi! My name is Misty, too, and I'm a real model! I really like designing clothes, so I thought that I would make some for you! I hope you like them!

Yours truly,
Misty Burnett
Fairfield, OH

And one more Misty:

Dear Misty,

My best friend's name is Misty. She is my friend but really she's more like my sister, and now she lives in Wyoming. I think you look like me: blonde hair, blue eyes, we even dress alike.

Yours Truly,
Wendy Grimes
Hayward, CA

Dear Misty,

I am 14 years old and I am English. I have only one of your comics, but I think it's brill. I have drawn you some English designs for Misty and friends.

Sarah Lampen
Eleven
England

Thank you, Sarah, and WE think YOU'RE "brill"! (Is that an English expression, and does it mean "brilliant"?)

Hey there everybody!

Girls these days are looking for romance. If you only make Misty and Rick kiss just once, then you'll have the attention of all the girls that come in the comic store. I ought to know. My uncle owns a comic store, and I go help them, and all the girls that go there ask me if we carry any comic with romance. We don't have much with romance yet.

Maria Barrera
San Francisco, CA

Dear Maria,

Wait till you see the next issue of MISTY, in which Misty gets MARRIED to Ricky! or DOES she? Well, you'll find out in 60 days!

I've just put down my daughter's copy of MISTY, and write to you with mixed feelings. It's a good comic! As an old MILLIE THE MODEL fan I was happy to see it as I had often told my daughter about your magazine. BUT for the SAME reason I HATED what you did to Millie!

Good Lord! What were you thinking of when you drew Millie! She's an ex-model! She NEVER would have let herself go to fat or look FRUMPY!

I am about the same age as Millie and you have just insulted me and the rest of your Millie fans in our age group! There are some of us that still look pretty darn good and are still active in the modeling world. Think! Don't do this to Millie and don't do this to us!

Sincerely,
Rebecca Lane Qualis,
Russellville, AR

And for a different viewpoint on the continuing debate on "Should Millie go on a diet?", read . . .

I finally picked up MISTY #1 and 2. Great stuff. Very creative. This series really takes me back. Your art is wonderful. Every page is glowing and beautiful. It's really neat how you credit the people who design the various outfits in the stories. So what if Misty is aimed at a "younger" crowd, it amuses and entertains this reader.

What happened to Millie is natural, and, I think, very creative. This is better than what happened to Patsy Walker (now A.K.A. Hellcat).

Michael Rhodes
Oakland, CA

Dear Misty,

When I read about Danielle and Megan, I knew just what to do. What I did with a friend like that was when they BTD want to play with me I said, "No." That made her feel bad, and she didn't do it again.

Sincerely,
Abby
Ithaca, NY

Dear Abby,

Thank you for your excellent advice! You should have your own advice column, and you could call it "Dear Abby"! The next four letters all need advice. If you or any other readers have any ideas for them, the help will be appreciated!

Dear Misty,

I like this boy and I do everything for him to notice me. I can't take my mind off him. What should I do? And I already wrote him a letter.

From,
Heartaches
Bethpage, NY

Dear Heartaches,

I don't think you should have written him that letter. You may have scared him off. When you chase a boy and try to get him to notice you, it can have the opposite effect! The best thing for you to do is act natural around him, and treat him just the way you treat the other kids. Then, when he starts feeling calmer about you, he just might decide he likes you, too!

Dear Misty,

I need some advice about a boy. Sunday I was in my cousin's bridal party and the bride's brother was my partner, and I developed a crush on him. I would like to see him again, but how can I even talk to him when he lives in Canarsie and I live in Bensonhurst, and he's 16 and I'm 13?

Yours truly,
Laurie
Brooklyn, NY

Dear Laurie,

I don't think your problems are insurmountable. A mature 13 year old can get along nicely with a 16 year old, especially if he's a young 16. As for how to see him again, if your cousin is married to his sister, nothing could be more natural than to pay a visit to your cousin and his new wife. Canarsie isn't really THAT far from Bensonhurst! And once you and this boy have made friends, you can always talk to each other over that wonderful invention, the telephone!

Dear Misty,

I am having trouble making friends in school. I don't know why, but everybody seems to think I'm different from them. What can I do to make them like me?

Yours truly,
Betsy
N. Kingstown, RI

Dear Betsy,

Kids can be very cruel to someone whom they think is different. Look at the kids in your school. Is there some special way they like to dress? Some fad like legwarmers or headbands, or even special barrettes that they all wear? Ask your mother to buy you these things, or save your allowance and buy them yourself. It isn't fair to have to look just like everybody else in order to be accepted by them, but sometimes that's just what it takes.

Dear Misty,

I need some advice about my friend Michelle. It all started with my brother and her fist fighting, and now my family doesn't like her family. My mom says she doesn't want me to go over to her house, and at school she told me she's not allowed to see me at all, but I really like her and she really likes me. What should I do?

Yours truly,
Linda Mandt

Dear Linda,

I don't think your mother is being fair. This fight was between Michelle and your brother, and it has nothing to do with you, or with your families. Do you have a teacher or adviser at school with whom you get along very well, or some other grown-up friend whom your mother respects? If so, confide in that person, and he or she can try to reason with your mother.

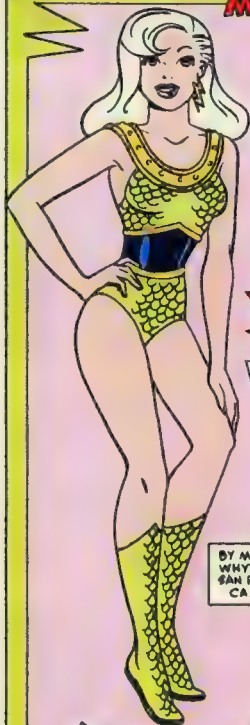

I hope you and Michelle can be friends again very soon!

That's all we have room for this time, dear readers! And, speaking of room, if you've sent us designs and you haven't seen them in print yet, please don't think that it's because we don't like them! The fact is, we've received so many HUNDREDS of designs, and there are just so many outfits that Misty and her friends can wear in each issue, we simply don't have ROOM to use every design! But we'll keep trying!
